Alview-Dairyland is a small rural district located in the Central San Joaquin Valley in Madera County. We have a solid record of achievement, a commitment to continuous improvement, and a staff that is professionally skilled and personally committed to meeting the learning needs of students.

Alview-Dairyland is a K-8 school located on two campuses. Alview houses two kindergarten classes, two first grades, two second grades and one third grade. Dairyland has one third grade, two fourth grades, one fifth grade, a fifth-sixth grade combination, a sixth grade, a seventh grade, an eighth grade, an ungraded third through fifth learning academy, and an ungraded fifth through eighth learning academy. The school operates on two campuses to utilize available classrooms, but the administration of the two campuses is one unit. The district includes approximately one hundred twenty-five (125) square miles of rural farm area in Madera County. Eighth grade graduates from Dairyland attend Chowchilla Union High. School.

Alview-Dairyland believes that all children will be competent and confident learners when given carefully planned, relevant, and ambitious curricula and programs. High standards and measurable expectations for all students are inherent in these curricula and programs. Alview-Dairyland has adopted standards which were developed by the California Academic Standards Commission and approved by the California Department of Education.

Situated in the heart of the fertile San Joaquin Valley at the very center of California, Chowchilla is today a farming community, just as it was when it was first developed. Located just south of the Chowchilla River and to the west of the Chowchilla Mountain in the Sierras, the town was named for a local Indian tribe whose name reflected their bravery and war-like nature.

Chowchilla covers four square miles with 480 acres in the city zoned for light and heavy industry. Adjacent to the city limit is another 880 acres that are industrially zoned. Chowchilla has an active partnership with the Chamber of Commerce and the City Government Redevelopment Agency looking towards the revitalization of their downtown business district.

Chowchilla is famous for its statuesque palms, lush date palms, and graceful fan leaf palms that line the main thoroughfare. Chowchilla's developer, Orlando A. Robertson, laid out a twelve mile long street and lined both sides with three types of palms, planted side by side for the entire distance. He then named the street "Robertson Boulevard" after himself. The taller trees have grown to impressive sizes since they were planted in 1914 and can be seen for many miles across the surrounding farmland. Visitors are frequently seen photographing this tree-lined street or requesting post cards of these majestic beauties. The palms are unique even in California because of their great size and number.

Welcome to the Madera Unified School District. We are located in the geographic center of California in a growing community of 50,000. Our district serves 18,000 students and has 2,000 employees.

We are guided by a powerful vision which encourages us to provide an educational program in which students are "driven by their aspirations, not bound by their circumstances."

From their first day of school, students are focused on learning the basics so that they can fulfill their career aspirations. As students turn toward high school, they choose a career path based on the interest, talent and future goals. We envision a time when every child will have the skills and knowledge upon graduation so they can choose their future.

Our school board is committed to providing the focus, direction and resources to provide a complete educational experience for students. In MUSD, we believe that students need to be connected to school, so we provide a rich array of co-curricular activities, including award winning music and athletics programs, clubs and organizations, and leadership opportunities. We believe that these connections strengthen the student, round out their experience and provide reasons to stay in school.

We know that students need parent support. Our most successful students have parent encouragement. We expect parents to be involved because parents are so influential in the life of a child. When we can form a partnership between the school and the home, we are assuring the success of the child.

Achievement is on the rise. New schools are being built. In the Madera Unified School District, wonderful new opportunities await our students.

The Mission of the Madera Unified School District

The Madera Unified School District will be widely recognized throughout California as a leader in education, where the futures of children are driven by their aspirations, not bound by their circumstances.

MUSD Aims For...

- ...The Highest Student Achievement
- ...A Safe and Orderly Learning Environment
- ...Financially Sound and Effective Organization

We are a single-school district located in the town of Raymond, situated in the Sierra foothills of Eastern Madera County. The district encompasses 196.7 square miles of sparsely populated foothills. Currently, ninety-three (93) students are enrolled in grades kindergarten through eighth grade and are served by four teachers assigned to multi-grade classrooms, one Community Day School Teacher, and one Title I Teacher. Four classroom aides also serve in a variety of other capacities; bus drivers, custodians, cooks, clerical workers, and librarian. One school and district secretary, one site administrator (principal/superintendent) and one maintenance worker provide support to the educational program. Sixty percent (60%) of the classrooms are housed in temporary buildings. Each classroom is equipped with Internet-connected computers. The governing board is a group of publicly elected volunteers that are stakeholders within the community and are active in the school program. We provide after-school enrichment program through Club YES (by way of a grant administered by Madera County Office of Education.) We also have a GATE program, and a parent volunteer program through SPICE.

Mission Statement

The mission of the Raymond-Knowles Union Elementary School District is to educate all students in a challenging, disciplined, safe, and supportive environment, so they can reach their full potential of becoming productive citizens of high moral character, making life-long contributions to society.

All students will have access to the core curriculum. Raymond-Knowles Union Elementary School District encourages parent and community involvement.

Welcome to the Yosemite Unified School District web site. We are pleased to share information about our district and schools. Our 12 schools serve approximately 2500 students and cover a large geographic area of approximately 850 square miles. The communities in our district include the following: Ahwahnee, Bass Lake, Coarsegold, Fish Camp, Oakhurst, Raymond and Wawona. Good schools contribute to good communities. Our students, parents, teachers, principals, administrators, support staff and Board of Education are committed to quality instructional programs and have high expectations for student achievement. We are equally committed to professional development for our staff, a learning environment that welcomes the community into our schools, and teaches that we are part of the community and a home/school partnership that serves as a foundation for our success.

Vision Statement

Connecting all students with their past, present, and future, the Yosemite Joint Union High School District will be a community of responsible young adults cooperatively learning creative problem solving skills to help them achieve their full potential as life-long learners, citizens, and workers.

Through involvement in the academic curriculum and social preparation in the Yosemite Union High School District, students will demonstrate the ability to:

1. Understand and value one's self, others, and our common heritage.
2. Communicate appropriately and effectively.
3. Be able to solve problems independently and as a group.
4. Be responsible decision makers.
5. Define and value aesthetics.
6. Appreciate and value culture and environmental diversity and relationships.
7. Acquire, process, and utilize information using appropriate technology and other resources.
8. Be productive, active, ethical contributors to themselves, their families, communities, nations, and the world.
9. Develop a professional work ethic and sense of purpose.
10. Be life-long learners.
