ABC has a vision that is simple and powerful: We believe students in ABC should be as well educated as any in the world. We believe all students have the capacity to be high achievers. We believe people are the cornerstone of our district and students are the reason we are here."

Community

In 1965 Artesia, Bloomfield, and Carmenita School Districts unified and became known as the ABC Unified School District. The ABC Unified School District is representative of urban school districts throughout the United States. The community served by ABC Unified School District includes the cities of Artesia, Cerritos, Hawaiian Gardens, as well as portions of Lakewood, Long Beach, and Norwalk.

Located in an attractive suburb on the southeast edge of Los Angeles County, the District is within easy driving distance to the major Southern California attractions, airports, and universities. The District is approximately 15 miles from beautiful Pacific Ocean beaches popular for their boating, surfing and sunning activities, and within two hours of mountain resorts for skiing and hiking. The ethnically and economically diverse community is strongly supportive of their ABC schools.

The ABC Unified School District is known throughout the State of California as a leader in educational planning and innovation. The District has received county, state, and national recognition for outstanding programs in counseling, alternative education, staff development and labor relations.

The ABC Unified School District is governed by a seven member Board of Education and includes nineteen elementary schools, five middle schools, three comprehensive high schools, a college prep 7-12 school, a continuation high school, infant/children centers, extended-day care, and adult school. The diverse ethnicity of the community is reflected in the K-12 population which is American Indian/Alaskan Native, Asian, African American, Filipino, Hispanic, Pacific Islander, Portuguese, and White.

Welcome to AUSD

Azusa Unified is a community that believes its children deserve the best education possible. More than 11,600 students attend AUSD schools which include 12 elementary schools, three middle schools & three high schools. The District also offers an extensive Adult Education Program.

Instructional Program

Our instructional program prepares students to meet the challenges of the 21st century. Azusa Unified has high expectations for students. Programs such as JROTC, GATE and AVID offer valuable enrichment activities. Both Azusa High and Gladstone High offer a great selection of Advanced Placement classes and Honors classes. In addition, Azusa schools continue to make gains on statewide tests.

Staff

AUSD teachers make a difference. The District recruits teachers from across the nation. To ensure the success of beginning teachers, the District offers an extensive training program with support from veteran teachers. Our dedicated classified staff provides vital support services for students.

Technology

Technology skills are incorporated into the District's curriculum. Every school has a computer lab and every classroom has access to the Internet.

Community Partnerships

Students benefit from partnerships with local colleges, businesses and government entities. AUSD offers many opportunities for parent participation in PTA, Parent Boosters and the Superintendent's Parent Roundtable. Programs such as CHAMPS encourage elementary students to start thinking about college while at the high school level.

Profile

The Centinela Valley Union High School District is located in Los Angeles County, close to the Los Angeles International Airport. It serves an ethnically diverse population in the cities of Hawthorne, Lawndale, and Lennox, and is near to the famous beach recreation areas of Redondo, Hermosa, and Manhattan Beach.

CVUHSD has a student population of approximately 7,800. They attend either Hawthorne, Lawndale, or Leuzinger High School for the comprehensive secondary programs, or Loyde High School for the continuation program. In addition, CVUHSD maintains an extensive adult education program. The feeder school districts of the Centinela Valley are Hawthorne, Lawndale, Lennox, and Wiseburn.

History

The Centinela Valley Union High School District was formed in 1905 and was originally known as the Inglewood Union High School District. It was composed of the territory of Hawthorne, Inglewood (later Inglewood City), Jefferson (later Lenox), and Wiseburn School Districts. Following the formation in 1912 from territory taken from Wiseburn School District, the El Segundo School District was also a component of the High School District.

The name was changed to Centinela Valley Union High School District on November 1, 1944. El Segundo withdrew on November 22, 1925, to form the El Segundo High School District, and on July 1, 1954, Inglewood withdrew and formed the Inglewood Unified School District.

The Centinela Valley Union High School District is a component of the El Camino Community College District.

Claremont Unified District is located in Southern California approximately 30 miles east of Los Angeles. The community is known for the Claremont Colleges and has a strong working relationship with these institutions. Currently, the District has over 6,300 students in its K-12 program and runs an extensive Adult School program. There are seven unique elementary schools, a school for the orthopedically handicapped, an intermediate school, a comprehensive high school, and a continuation school.

Mission Statement and Goals

The employees of the Claremont Unified School District constitute the most important resource for providing an excellent educational program for the students of the community.

Recognizing this, it is the goal of the Personnel Services Department to provide the following:

- The ongoing recruitment, selection, and retention of the most highly qualified available candidates for all open positions in the District.
- An active Mentor Teacher Program dedicated to the support of new teachers and veteran teachers having new instructional experiences.
- The allocation of human resources within the District in a manner which makes the greatest contribution to the instructional program.
- A collaboration and shared decision making in which optimum staff performance and satisfaction are produced.
- Programs of professional growth that are designed to contribute to the improvement of the learning program and to each staff member's career development.
- A genuine team approach to education including staff, student, and parent involvement in program planning, implementation, and evaluation.
- Solution-building employee/employer relations.
- The development and utilization of personnel evaluation processes which contribute to the continuous improvement of staff abilities and programs.

Covina-Valley Unified School District is distinguished academically and is ranked as one of the safest public school districts in the area. The district serves about 15,000 students in kindergarten through 12th grade at 12 elementary, three middle, three high schools, two alternative schools and an adult education program.

For more than a century, Covina-Valley USD has served the communities of Covina, West Covina, Glendora, San Dimas and Irwindale. Covina-Valley schools provide the personalized service and caring culture of a small school district, where teachers and administrators know their students by name.

Each year, our graduates earn in excess of $1 million in scholarships. Due to the high academic standing of Covina-Valley students, more than half of all graduates meet or exceed the admission requirements for the California State and University of California systems.

We provide a strong basic education underscoring reading, writing, language arts, math, science, social science and technology, which is aligned with the California Department of Education standards. Moreover, each campus offers leadership, curricular, and athletics/sports opportunities. A broad array of support services is available to children, adults and families.

An extensive arts program begins in elementary school, providing students with a well-rounded education. Our athletic teams garner California Interscholastic Federation (CIF) Championships, and are consistently ranked among the best in the region.

Each school enjoys high parent participation - active PTA and booster organizations. Community residents and local businesses serve as classroom volunteers, providing in-kind prizes to motivate and recognize student achievement, and to underwrite important school events.

Few districts in the state have achieved the level of distinction enjoyed by the Culver City Unified School District. The district is home to five California Distinguished Schools, and students throughout the district score well on national scholastic exams. The district's 330 teachers, 175 of whom have advanced degrees, are dedicated to effective and innovative teaching methods that produce real results.

Situated in Culver City with its tree-lined streets and small-town charm, Culver City CCUSD has developed an enviable partnership with a wide range of local businesses that provide CCUSD students with hands-on learning opportunities and funding for various projects. In addition, the Culver City Education Foundation has generated thousands of dollars in donations to improve the classroom learning environment for Culver City children.

CCUSD is proud of its community, its teachers and, most of all, its students; and we are committed to providing the best education possible for our children.

MISSION STATEMENT

The mission of the Culver City Unified School District, a diverse haven of excellence, is to ensure that each student possesses the academic and personal skills necessary to achieve his/her highest potential as a valued, responsible member of society by providing challenging, personalized educational experiences in a safe, nurturing environment and by fostering a passion for teaching and learning with committed parent and community involvement.

In Los Angeles County, few school districts maintain a “family,” caring spirit, where teachers - and even their administrators - know students by name, greet parents and provide a warm, friendly atmosphere for students, parents, visitors and staff. Yet, that is precisely why families move into the Duarte Unified School District and stay. We deliver a broad, challenging, standards-based curriculum in a supportive, caring culture at each school. Our schools also benefit from active parents, and a highly supportive community. Duarte Unified is a small district, serving about 4,700 youngsters from Duarte, Bradbury, and the Maxwell Park area through five elementary schools (K-6), one intermediate (7-8), one high school (9-12) and one alternative education campus.

History

The Duarte community began as a 7000-acre land grant to Don Andres Duarte in the mid-19th Century. The District’s roots date to 1906, when Duarte was part of the Monrovia-Arcadia-Duarte School District. Each area separated forming separate school districts in 1954.

Location

If you’re wondering, “Where is the Duarte Unified School District?” the District is nestled at the base of the San Gabriel Mountains in the San Gabriel Valley. Easily accessible by major freeways, the District is located within 30-60 minutes of Downtown Los Angeles, the county’s theatre/arts district, Hollywood, beaches, theme parks, and mountain recreational areas. Duarte is proud to be the home of the world-renowned cancer research center – the City of Hope.

Governance

Duarte Unified is governed by a five-member elected Board of Education. Each member serves a four-year term. The Board is responsible for overseeing District operations, and enacting policies and procedures to ensure the safe and smooth operation of all schools.

Beliefs

We believe that all children are capable learners. Our staff focus on helping each youngster reach his/her personal best. Our goal is to graduate students who are well-prepared for living, working and learning in a challenging world.

Mission Statement: “Our purpose is to educate all students to develop skills, knowledge, and attitudes to be responsible, productive, and fulfilled individuals able to succeed ethically in a democratic society.”

The El Monte City School District serves over 12,000 children at eighteen school sites. It employs over 1,200 full and part time persons in certificated, management and classified positions. The schools are organized as K-4(1), K-5(1), K-6(10) and K-8(6) sites. There is a Children's Center located adjacent to one site and there are four Head Start programs located at elementary schools.

The El Monte City School District, a suburban school district serving children from pre-school age through the eighth grade, was founded in the 1880s. It is located eleven miles east of the City of Los Angeles in the San Gabriel Valley. Students in the district come from the cities of El Monte, South El Monte, and portions of Los Angeles County that are proximate to the cities of Temple City and Arcadia.

District demographics include families that are 78% Hispanic, 14% Asian, 7% White and less than 1% American Indian, Pacific Islander, Filipino and Black.

Located approximately 12 miles east of downtown Los Angeles, El Monte is the hub of the San Gabriel Valley, where two major freeways – Interstates 605 and 10 – intersect and is the ninth largest city (out of 88) in Los Angeles County with a population of approximately 120,000. The land uses within its 10 square mile area are 58 percent residential, 11 percent retail, 10 percent industrial, 7 percent office/retail, and 14 percent other of amenities. El Monte also has an ethnically diverse and dynamic population with 72 percent Hispanic, 18 percent Asian, and 7 percent White.

El Monte is also home to Longo Toyota, the number one auto dealer in the United States by sales and volume. Other major retail businesses include Home Depot, Sam's Club, and K-Mart. Major industries include the Von's Distribution Warehouse, Wells Fargo Operations Center, and St. Gobain Glass Containers.

With the growing population in El Monte, community and educational facilities continue to improve. New parks are being built to serve the growing population with many active sports programs. A brand new Aquatic Center with three pools is located along the Tyler Avenue Heritage District, which includes the City's Community and Senior Centers, museums, and a public library.

Mission Statement

The students of the Garvey School District will learn academic skills, moral, and ethical values and a respect for diversity that will enable them to be life-long learners and productive members of a global society.

The Garvey School District is situated at the western end of the San Gabriel Valley, about 10 miles from the city of Los Angeles. The District serves four square-mile portions of Monterey Park, San Gabriel, Rosemead, and Los Angeles County unincorporated territory. It is the second oldest elementary school district in Los Angeles County.

The Garvey School District has traditions dating back to 1892 when a prominent landowner, Richard Garvey, founded the first school on his property to provide for the education of his son. It has expanded from a one-room school to its current twelve schools, ten of which are elementary schools (K-6) and two are intermediate schools (Grades 7-8).

The District is a leader in instructional practices and community relations encouraging parental participation at every level. Garvey reaches out to the community by placing a high priority on the translation of materials and oral presentations in a variety of languages.

The over 6,100 students from preschool to eighth grade belong to a community that has a rich multicultural heritage. The students represent a wide range of Latin American and Asian nationalities as well as a cross section of old California families.

Statewide and National Recognition

- We have one Blue Ribbon School - the highest honor given to schools in the Nation.
- We have three California Distinguished Schools, with a fourth nominated as part of the 2006 award program.
- We have four Title I Achieving Schools - another national award.
- One of our science teachers, Anthony Quan, was named a 2005-06 Los Angeles County Teacher of the Year - one of 13 to receive such a prestigious honor.

Mission Statement

The mission of the Inglewood Unified School District, a unifying force of the All-American City of Champions, is to ensure that our students are taught by highly qualified teachers and excel as productive world citizens through a pre-kindergarten - secondary educational system characterized by safe schools, exemplary academic programs, highly qualified teachers, and effective partnerships with families and all segments of the community.

District Description:

Located in Los Angeles County, California, the Inglewood Unified School District serves approximately 17,750 students (in kindergarten through 12th grade) from the cities of Inglewood and Ladera Heights. In total, there are thirteen elementary schools and six secondary schools, many of which are on a year-round schedule. In addition, there is one preschool center with approximately 300 students and a community adult school with approximately 8,000 students.

The Inglewood Unified School District (IUSD) serves a diverse population of students in an urban setting, with 58% Hispanic, 41% African American, and 1% other ethnicities, according to demographic information from the California Department of Education (CDE) for the 2002-2003 school year.

Inglewood's elementary schools are often considered to have defied the statistics. Despite the low average socioeconomic level of students district-wide, IUSD elementary schools have earned national and international recognition for their outstanding academic performance. Three Inglewood schools have earned the title of "California Distinguished School" and one was recently named a "Title I High Achieving School." In a 2002 study conducted by the Pacific Research Foundation, five Inglewood elementary schools made the High-Performing, High-Poverty list

In this year of the 100th anniversary of Lawndale Elementary School District exciting changes came alive in the District with the opening of two new schools on September 6th. Lucille J. Smith Elementary School is the District's first new elementary school in 50 years. The opening of Jane Addams Middle School marks the first time the District has had two middle schools. In preparation for the new school openings, it was necessary to establish new attendance boundaries.

Along with the new boundaries, the grade level configuration of each school changed in September 2006. All elementary schools now serve students from Preschool through 5th Grade, while the two middle schools serve students in 6th, 7th, and 8th Grade. Who We Are

The Lawndale Elementary School District located in the heart of the South Bay in Lawndale California, consists of nine school sites, providing a public school education to approximately 6,000 students. Six elementary schools provide kindergarten through 5th grade classes. Two middle schools serve the 6th through 8th grades. The District also serves approximately 500 preschool students residing in the community.

Situated at the southern edge of the Los Angeles basin, Lawndale Elementary School District is a kaleidoscope of peoples. Here we welcome students and families from nations as far as Vietnam and Nigeria, from nations as near as Mexico, serving first generation immigrants and long-established residents side by side. Our differences are our strength as we celebrate our cultures, delight in our languages, and create community in classrooms, schools, and neighborhoods, with equity and excellence our goal for all.

Community & District Profile

Lennox Elementary School District encompasses 1.75 square miles, which includes the unincorporated county area of Lennox, and portions of the cities of Inglewood, Hawthorne and Los Angeles. The community of Lennox, which has changed over the years due to annexation by Inglewood and Hawthorne, is currently 1.1 square miles. Lennox Elementary School District is comprised of five elementary schools, serving grades kindergarten through five, one middle school serving grades six through eight, and one high school serving grades nine through twelve. During the 2004-05 school year 7,704 students were enrolled in grades kindergarten through eight.

Message from Superintendent Dr. Bruce McDaniel:

Welcome to the Lennox School District! We believe our district to be very unique; one that exudes enthusiasm, effectiveness, and warmth. There is a great deal of information included in these web pages which will give you an excellent idea of what we aspire to. I hope you can take a few minutes to learn more about us. We encourage you to communicate with us or come by to visit in person. Below is the Lennox School District Vision Statement, which reflects the ideals that direct our actions and spirit.

The Lennox School District Vision Statement:

"We, the Lennox School Community of parents, staff, and students, celebrate learning and the lifelong quest for knowledge. We value and nurture the talents and uniqueness of each individual. We are committed to creating a challenging educational experience that empowers all members to strive for excellence and to achieve their personal best as contributors to the future of the community, nation, and humanity."

Little Lake City School District has a long and distinctive history of excellence. Serving the communities of Santa Fe Springs, Norwalk, and portions of Downey, the District educates 4,900 youngsters in grades K-8 at seven elementary schools and two middle schools.

In a sprawling metropolitan area like Los Angeles County, it is hard to find a community and school district that offer as much as Little Lake. Little Lake maintains a small hometown atmosphere. Our principals and staff work hard to meet the individual learning needs of students in a family-friendly and highly supportive atmosphere. As a result, families move into the area and stay for generations.

Little Lake enjoys a stable, seasoned management team, and employs highly qualified teachers. Students also benefit from active community participation and high parent involvement. Established in 1885 with fewer than a dozen students meeting in a borrowed tent, LBUSD now educates more than 92,000 students in 95 public schools in the cities of Long Beach, Lakewood, Signal Hill, and Avalon on Catalina Island. The third largest school district in California, it serves the most diverse large city in the United States, according to Census 2000, with 46 different languages spoken by local students. The district employs more than 8,000 people, making it the largest employer in Long Beach.

LBUSD was the first public school system in the U.S. to require uniforms in kindergarten through eighth grade; the first to require any third grader reading below grade level to attend mandatory summer school; and the first to end social promotion. The district led the nation's first conversion of a public middle school from co-educational classes to separate classes for boys and girls. Known as the Jefferson Leadership Academies, the school's focus on academics has reduced distractions and produced higher student achievement.

Even with such excellent support, the district by the late 1990s struggled with one of its toughest challenges. Enrollment grew rapidly. Hundreds of students transferred to Long Beach schools from private and parochial schools. New schools and classrooms were needed urgently. Fortunately, strong community support assured the overwhelming passage of $295 million in local school bonds in 1999. These bond funds are helping assure that students and teachers will have the facilities, equipment and technology they need for years to come. New schools and classrooms are being built on time and on budget.

District Mission Statement

The Los Nietos School District is committed to providing the best educational environment possible within the personnel and fiscal resources available so that all pupils in the district may achieve to their highest potential and become fully competent in basic areas. These include English literacy, math computation and problem solving, history, science, computers, and social skills in order that they might be happy, successful, competent, and productive adults for the good of themselves and society.

History

The Los Nietos School District (the 2nd oldest district in California) has acted as a school district under the laws of the State of California since August 12, 1861. In 1885, part of the district was made into the Pio Pico School District. In 1924, a school was built on the present site of the Los Nietos Middle School at 11425 East Rivera Road in Los Nietos, California. The building was condemned after the 1933 earthquake. When it was rebuilt, the floor plan was identical to the building that had been torn down but the structural design was changed from brick to stucco.

Presently, the Los Nietos Elementary School District consists of four schools, three K-5 schools; Aeolian School and Ada S. Nelson School, both located in Whittier, Rancho Santa Gertrudes School in Santa Fe Springs, and one 6-8 middle school; Los Nietos Middle School.

District Facts

The Los Nietos School District has a total area of 3.5 square miles with three elementary schools and one middle school. The total enrollment of 2,500 students is composed of about 85% Hispanic and 14% Anglo. The remainder of the school population is made up of other ethnic groups. The current school budget is nearly $16,489,268 including State and Federal Categorical Programs.

We are located in the center of Southern California just east of the city of Los Angeles. Major freeways intersect the area, making the San Fernando Valley, the beaches, and Orange County readily accessible. The San Gabriel Mountains, the Mojave Desert, and the Pacific Ocean are within easy reach and offer abundant recreational activities. Many higher educational institutions are located nearby.

- Building positive relationships
- Being client focused
- Maintaining safe, clean and attractive schools
- Maximizing fiscal resources
- Optimizing the use of our facilities

About MUSD Schools

Characterized by a rigorous curriculum with a variety of academic programs, strong parent involvement and quality teachers, the Montebello Unified School District is recognized locally and statewide for its efforts to ensure success for all students.

The District, with a total enrollment of more than 35,000 K—12 students and 30,000 adult learners in eighteen elementary schools, six intermediate schools, four high schools and four adult schools, is one of the largest in Los Angeles County. It is located just 15 minutes from downtown Los Angeles and serves a diverse student population from the cities of Bell Gardens, Commerce, Montebello, and portions of Downey, Los Angeles, Monterey Park, Pico Rivera, Rosemead and South San Gabriel.

Approximately 92 percent of students in MUSD are Hispanic, 4 percent are Asian or Pacific Islanders and roughly 3 percent are Caucasian. Fifty percent of students are English Language Learners. Eighty-one percent qualify for free and reduced price meals, the poverty indicator established by the federal government.

Diversity is one of our District's strengths. Upon graduation, MUSD students are well prepared to enter today's global society and have gone on to become CEOs, legislators, business owners, school superintendents and educators in MUSD. With its ongoing commitment to student success, MUSD will continue to be recognized locally and statewide for providing a world class education.

About the District

Mountain View School District, located in the heart of the San Gabriel Valley, is a K-8 school district comprised of ten elementary schools, one intermediate school, one middle school, an alternative education program for students in grades 4-8, and a Children's Center and Head Start/ State Preschool program serving over 240 children. The District, with an enrollment of 10,500 students, serves the educational needs of students living in the cities of El Monte and South El Monte.

To ensure student safety and an environment conducive to learning, a mandatory student uniform policy is enforced district wide.

Teamwork is the key at Mountain View where employees, parents, business and community members actively participate in the educational development of the students. In an environment of mutual respect, the team approach enhances the District's efforts to prepare the students to become life long learners, as well as self-directed and motivated members of society.

Mountain View School District is committed to providing a well-balanced, quality education to all students by:

- serving their unique needs
- providing instructional leadership
- allowing them the opportunity to achieve their greatest potential through rigorous academic and extracurricular programs

About the Community

Mountain View School District serves a predominantly Hispanic population in the communities of El Monte, with a population of 100,000, and South El Monte, with a population of 25,000.

El Monte is a historic community that provides a quiet place to live within easy commuting distance of virtually every type of recreation and entertainment. The mountains, beaches, desert and metropolitan areas all are accessible by one of three interstate freeways, a general aviation airport or a rapid transit system.

2006 State of the Schools Address

PUSD

Pasadena Unified School District

And this is our greatest challenge as we move forward. We must continue to work together to raise the bar even higher, but our focus must also be to close the gap. As our test scores have increased and our campuses have become more attractive both through Measure Y improvements and through the academic programs offered, we must ensure that no child slips through the cracks.

The second challenge is our need to continue to increase our partnerships and connections with all parts of our community. Pasadena City College has worked very closely with PUSD, offering courses and dual enrollment for our students.

The third challenge I would like to highlight is our need to be financially secure. As our community has become less affordable, we have seen some of our neediest students move away to less expensive communities. This has resulted in reduced resources to serve our remaining students. The problem is simple - the money we lose from the state for each student who leaves our district is greater than the amount we save. In other words, our expenses do not drop at the same rate that our revenue drops. We need to think seriously about all of our spending patterns and consider whether there are some areas where spending needs to be reprioritized so that we can focus on our goal of achieving 80% proficient and advanced by 2009. Every decision must be weighed against this outcome. The Management Audit that we are currently undergoing will help us with this process.

I would like to leave you with this final thought, and that is Go Public! You may have heard our new slogan or you may have seen it on posters, bumper stickers and other items. Our message to you is simple and clear...Join all of us at Pasadena Unified School District and be a part of our family. And if you have any questions about going public, you can contact me directly by email at psoelter (at) earthlink (dot) net. or by phone at 578-1127.

Mission Statement

It is the mission of the San Gabriel Unified School District, founded in 1887, rich in history, culture, and diversity, to work in partnership with families, staff, and the community to meet the unique academic and social needs of each student. Through extraordinary community collaborations and rigorous educational strategies we strive to produce graduates who excel academically, act responsibly, and are supportive citizens of the community and the world.

Vision Statement

By 2016 SGUSD graduates will have the knowledge and skills to:

- Be life-long learners, critical thinkers and problem solvers.
- Have a foundation for continued education with informational and academic literacy.
- Participate and contribute to the social and economic life of the local and global community.
- Demonstrate positive attitudes, persistence, and resiliency.
- Maintain personal fitness and well-being.
